DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claim 15 recites the limitation " the element" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 17-28 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 15 and 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yoshida(6211602).

Yoshida disclose a adjusting device comprising: a base (11), a piezoelectric actuator (10) supported by an element (16), a piezoelectric element (15) being constructed and controllable in such a way that it exert s shock pulses on the element in order to carry out a stepwise movement of the element on the base and a body (12) which has an
